STORIES

JUMBO THE ELEPHANT

Jumbo was an elephant. One-day Jumbo went for a walk. He walked slowly plod, plod, and plod. Jumbo walked to the river. He saw a little girl crying. He asked, “why are you crying?” “My bucket broke,” cried the little girl.” I can’t take water to my house”. Jumbo looked at the bucket which had a big hole in it.” Don’t worry” said Jumbo. “I will help you”. Jumbo went to the river. He put his long trunk in the water and filled it with water. “Look,” said Jumbo,” my trunk is full of water. I will bring the water to your house.” Jumbo went to the little girl’s house. There she found another bucket. Jumbo filled the bucket with water. The little girl was very happy. “Thank you. Jumbo” she said.

Moral: Always help others.

CHINTU AND THE VENDOR

Chintu was a very clever and bold boy. Once he bought berries from a vendor. The vendor gave berries less in weight. As Chintu was watchful, the vendor could not cheat him. The boy quickly pointed out, “Why are you giving me less berries?”

The vendor cunningly said, “Because the less will be easier for you to carry”. Chintu quickly put some money in the vendor’s hand and walked away. The vendor counted the money and found it less. So he called Chintu back and said, “you gave me less money”. Chintu sharply replied “Isn’t it easy to count, sir?”

Moral: Tit for tat.

THE LION AND THE BEE

One day a lion was taking a nap. A bee came flying around his head, Buzzzzzz.....

“Go away before I crush you under my paw,” the lion roared. You may be the king of the jungle. I am not afraid of you. Come let’s fight and see who wins. The lion agreed.

The bee bit him on his nose and ears again and again.

To kill the bee the lion clawed himself with his sharp nails.

“Stop! Stop! Cried the lion. You win!”

The bee buzzed away with joy after winning.

Moral : Never judge your enemies strength by his size.

FIGHT ALWAYS GIVES BAD RESULT

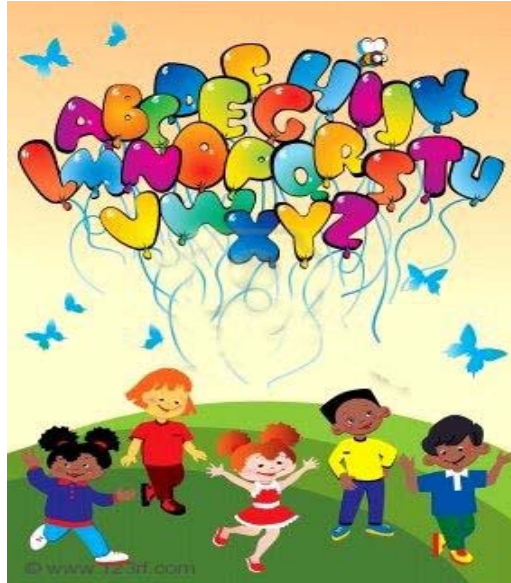

One day, two friends, while walking along the road saw a nice rope lying by its side. Both wanted to have it and started fighting for it.

One held it from one end and the other from the other end. They started pulling the rope. Suddenly, the rope broke off from the middle. One of them fell in mud and the other in a drain.

A passerby, who was watching all this, went to them and said, “Fighting for a thing always gives bad results.” The friends felt ashamed of their deed.

Moral : Think twice before you act.

We Play, Learn & Grow Together

All I Really Need to Know I Learned in Kindergarten

Share everything.

Play fair.

Don't hit your friends.

Put things back where you found them.

Clean up your own mess.

Don't take things that aren't yours.

Say you're sorry when you hurt somebody.

Wash your hands before you eat.

Warm cookies and cold milk are good for you.

Draw and paint and sing and dance and play and work every day.

When you go out into the world,
watch out for traffic,
hold hands, and stick together.
